

Welcome to La Posta Vecchia, a voluptuous retreat only 40 minutes away from Rome and 20 minutes from Fiumicino Airport. A seaside resort loved by Roman emperors, a Renaissance palazzo for the noble Orsini family and home to the billionaire J. P. Getty, who filled it with Italian art treasures, La Posta Vecchia offers also an archaeological museum and immaculately manicured grounds complete with well-preserved ruins.

ROOMS

Magnificent furnishings adorn every wall and room of La Posta Vecchia, a collection made by J.P. Getty with his art historian Federico Zeri. Each of La Posta Vecchia's 19 rooms and suites balances the Baroque exuberance of a Fellini film with her renowned artful elegance. All rooms and suites are spacious and uniquely decorated with Renaissance furnishings, paintings and antique tapestries.

LPV HEALTH & BEAUTY CLUB & BOUTIQUE

Overlooking the stone indoor pool, the LPV Health & Beauty Club offers treatments with both the refined organic range Santa Maria Novella of Firenze and ingredients from La Posta Vecchia's verdant gardens. Facial treatments by Biologique Recherche are also available. Close to the Beauty Club there's the boutique, a cornucopia of most eye-catching treasures selected by Marie-Louise Sciò.

RESTAURANTS

The Cesar Restaurant is the reign of La Posta Vecchia's culinary maestro, Antonio Magliulo. Chef Antonio has been working at La Posta Vecchia since 2011, where he has free rein to achieve the gastronomic heights his guests demand. Every day he is delighted to discover some special ingredients - most them coming from La Posta Vecchia's organic garden - which he presents with gusto for his guests.

EVENTS

La Posta Vecchia is an extraordinary location, available for private occasions: weddings, parties or incentive programmes. Each of the 19 rooms and suites is a small museum and it is possible to retain the entire villa for exclusive use. The meeting space in the top turret can host 50 delegates, there are two breakout rooms on the same floor, and the reception rooms, available individually or together.

FITNESS & SPORT

By the helipad rises the tennis court, there is a keep fit trail and complimentary bicycles are available for the guests to explore the surroundings. The Beach Club, overlooking the ancient Castello degli Odescalchi is an exclusive spot where the sea laps the Palazzo's walls. Dinghy sailing, windsurfing, kayaks and paddle boards are all available from La Posta Vecchia's private beach.
