

IL PELLICANO

HOTEL IN TUSCANY

THE HISTORY

Opened on the 2nd of June 1965, IL PELLICANO was built to commemorate the love of British ex Royal Air Force (RAF) aviator Michael Graham, with American jet setter, Patsy Daszel. After many travels around the world, Prince Tinti Borghese, introduced them to a stretch of cliffs overlooking the sea in the midst of the magnificent nature of Monte Argentario. The rugged cliffs and wild nature of this unexplored bay offered the perfect background for their love and the perfect location in which to establish a select club for their guests such as Charlie Chaplin, Henry Fonda, Gianni Agnelli, Slim Aarons, and all the European Royalty.

A regular guest of the Graham's, and also a friend, was Roberto Sciò, a charismatic Italian business man who loved the place so much that he ended up buying the property in 1979. IL PELLICANO is a member of The Leading Hotels of the World,
